what's inside?

With five towns and over 1700 students, it is difficult to find the average Joe; it is just as difficult to condense all of Wachusett into one book. We are a melting pot of students and outlooks. There is no one group or aspect more important than the other, so here is a book we feel represents everyone- "What is Wachusett?"

REFLECTIONS

Good times, bad times We'll always remember

On April 12, 1981, the space shuttle Columbia flew its maiden voyage as the world's first reusable spacecraft. Five years and 23 missions later, the Challenger tragedy threatened the emotional strength of our country.

In sports, at 17, Boris Becker of West Germany became the youngest man to capture the Wimbledon Tennis Championship. Our New England Patriots even went to Super Bowl XX!

At Wachusett, the boy's soccer team won the State Championship and the girl's field hockey team won the District E Championship in '84.

Even though our country experienced many highs and lows, Wachusett remained basically unchanged. When we look back to our high school years, there will be memories to reflect back on to recall the good times at Wachusett.

LEARNING

Hitting The Books

The academic year of '85-'86 held new promises and challenges for the senior class. Wachusett's Academic Decathalon team came within one place of advancing to the second round of competition. Six students were designated National Merit Scholarships "Commended Students," while Samuel McQuoid advanced to the Semifinals. And for the first time, students from Wachusett were awarded Certificates of Academic Excellence by the Massachusetts Association of School Superintendents.

The National Honor Society's Annual Blood Drive reached 284 pints of blood; more than any other high school in Massachusetts.

The new academic school year also brought changes to some of Wachusett's oldest traditions. The grade weighing system was reduced from a 14 point scale to a 6 point scale. And in our last year at Wachusett, rumours of cancelling exemptions for the mid-term and final exams spread throughout the school. Although the seniors had nothing to worry about, the juniors were faced with the prospect of taking year-end finals.

State of the arts

The lights went up,
the sets were set,
the acts were acted,
and the songs were sung . . .
On a warm Saturday night in mid-November, the last performance of "Bye Bye Birdie" closed, a total success . . .
Everyone received a standing ovation. The stars, the chorus, the stage crew director, and the band. All well deserved . . .
Though the night is over and the clean up is left for tomorrow, the party begins . . .
Drama lives at Wachusett, and though the performances are done, the memories will last forever . . .

COMPETITION

Competition. Goals. Ambition. These are the elements that temper an individual's resolve and test his or her mettle. Wachusett has always inspired competition on the playing field and in the classroom. The honor roll and National Honor Society, and the athletic teams with their endless drives for a challenge are testament to this.

But in truth, after all the fanfare and the glory, after everyone else has forgotten, the achievement itself and the desire to excel will live on in the hearts of those who dare to be great.

SPIRIT

Getting fired up

No need for ribbons
buttons or banners.
The kids have the spirit and that's what really matters.
You call, they're there.
No means will they spare.
From pupil to principle
we'll ring the bell,
So come here Wachusett and you'll hear us yell!!

TOGETHERNESS

Assigned to a hallway three feet wide, we realize there wasn't going to be a space to call our own. We learned how to share: we shared our lockers, our notes, our lunches. We shared our secrets, our troubles, and most of all we shared our friendship.

We'll never forget the togetherness we had-even between classes. Stetching the five minute locker time to its limit, who knows how much exercise we got sprinting to our next class before the bell.

Wachusett students all have one thing in common. They all need people to lean on. Whether it be a boyfriend, a girlfriend, club members, or just a close buddie, many students start their first day at Wachusett searching for people to hang around with. No one can say they don't have enough to choose from! At Wachusett you can find the studious, the artistic, the frivolous, and the friendly. The area five towns merge to form a melting pot with something for everyone.

PROFILES

The Outsider's Guide to Wachusett Survival

1. Get a nickname. Everyone who's anyone has a nickname.
2. If you aspire to be popular, obtain parents that go on vacation often, leaving you home alone. If those parents don't mind coming home to a huge mess, your popularity is guaranteed.
3. Next is attire. There is no substitute for aristocratic slobbiness. (For example, Timberland boots are o.k. to wear, but must not be tied.)
4. Finally, every new-comer to Wachusett needs to know exactly how to act in every situation. Generally, an air of annoyed indifference will suffice.

A Day in The Life . . .

Somewhere between night and day, the blare of an alarm clock awakens you.

In the next town, someone slumped over a typewriter rouses himself from sleep, 5:30 and 6 pages to go.

In the five towns, people are scuttling about to the bathroom, putting the last touches on their homework, and without fail, five miles from nowhere someone is trying to start his car in the cold.

....Identification

How we hate to admit how "cliquey" we were. Let's see, there's the smokin' area crew, the Dead Heads, the jocks, the dexters, the punks, the thrashers, the play crowd, the library clubbers, the hackey sackers, the band people, the student councillers, the partyers . . .

Following our own path

You could tell by looking at this crowd there was something different about us. Five towns, four grades, and 1700 people made all the difference to us. Walking down the corridors, you could tell who belonged to the seniors, the juniors, sophomores, and the freshmen. Different styles in clothing, hair, and even speech set each person apart from the rest.

But under all the fads and fashions, our thoughts and personalities made us real individuals. And in all schools like Wachusett, the only thing common in everyone was how everyone was UN-usual.

MONEY!

What's one popular pastime for Wachusett juniors and seniors besides athletics and partying? It's not that popular, but it's a pastime, and it's work. After school and on weekends many upperclassmen flock to area restaurants, shops, and supermarkets in order to earn money for college, cars, and rainy days.

A step in the right direction . . .

Where will we be ten or even twenty years from now? Only you can answer that question. Here at Wachusett plans are in the making for the immediate future of four hundred seniors.

College: About 70% of our class will go on to higher education and from this group more than half will be at four year institutions. For instance, the class of '86 has had acceptances from U. Mass at Amherst all the way down to Harvard.

Work: About a hundred graduating seniors will enter the job market this summer. Where they will work and for how long varies with each student.

Military: Some students have chosen to go the route of the military. In the past years declining enrollment into these ranks has forced these various armed forces to make themselves more attractive to the high school student. Consequently, after four years in the service one can accumulate enough money to put toward further education.

Wherever we go and whatever we do years and years from now, we will always be able to trace our steps back to Wachusett.

Kids that care

In this careless, greedfilled world we live in it is often hard to find even a glimmer of goodness, but here at Wachusett there is a group of kids who care.

Though the Mass Assoc. for the prevention cruelty to children and Wachusett's own Expression Theatre this group of kids was chosen, by audition to preform in two programs on child safty.

"The safety kids" was a musical preformance made to teach kids about personal safety. The other was "The touching problems" which is a dramatic piece made to teach adults about the same.

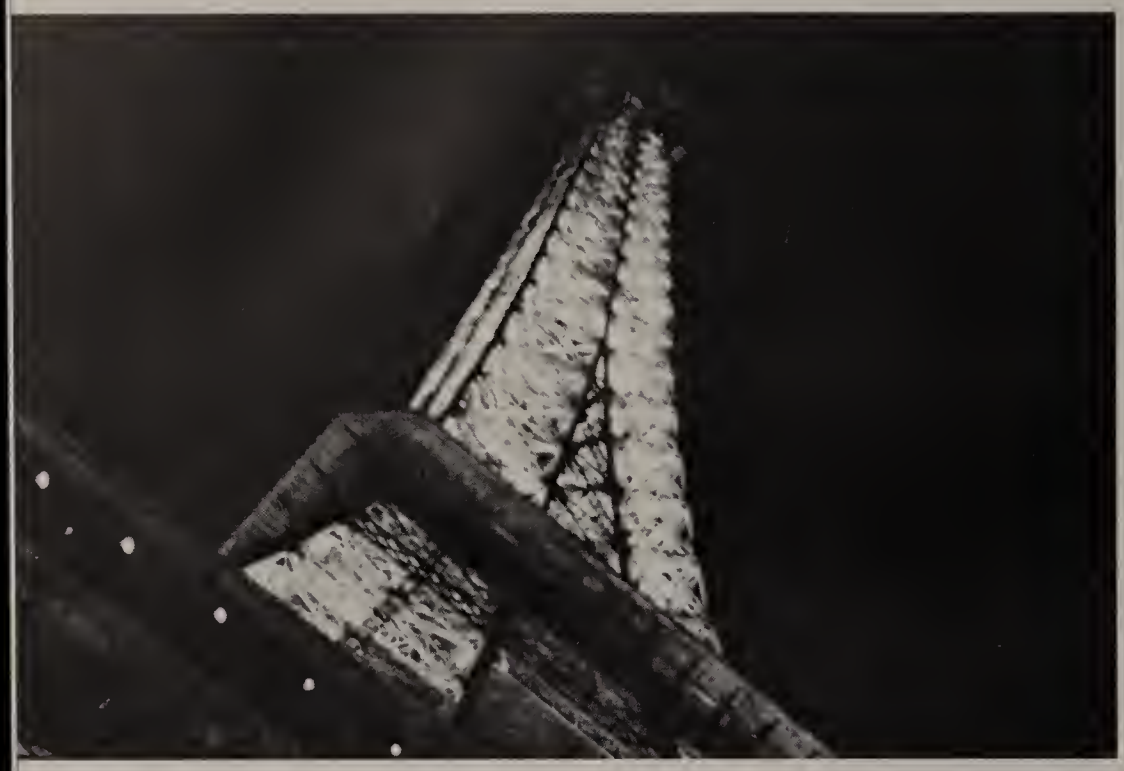

The kids preformed for over 2000 people in places like E.M. Loews not to mention the many local schools. It is clear that with all the work these kids put into the shows they not only like to perform, they really care.

I pull a stray daisy from beside the wide tree stump.
I slouch on the seat it made. The sticky blades of grass
Tickled my bare ankles like they did before on
The spicy October evening. You and I Leaned against the trunk reading
e.e. cummings and Emily Dickinson.
As the sky passed above us we grew tired.
You plucked the strings of your guitar
And your deep voice echoed the lyrics
Of Simon and Garfunkel.

Memories

Memories. What are they?
Memories are like the fallen snow, that trickles away with the heat of the sun.

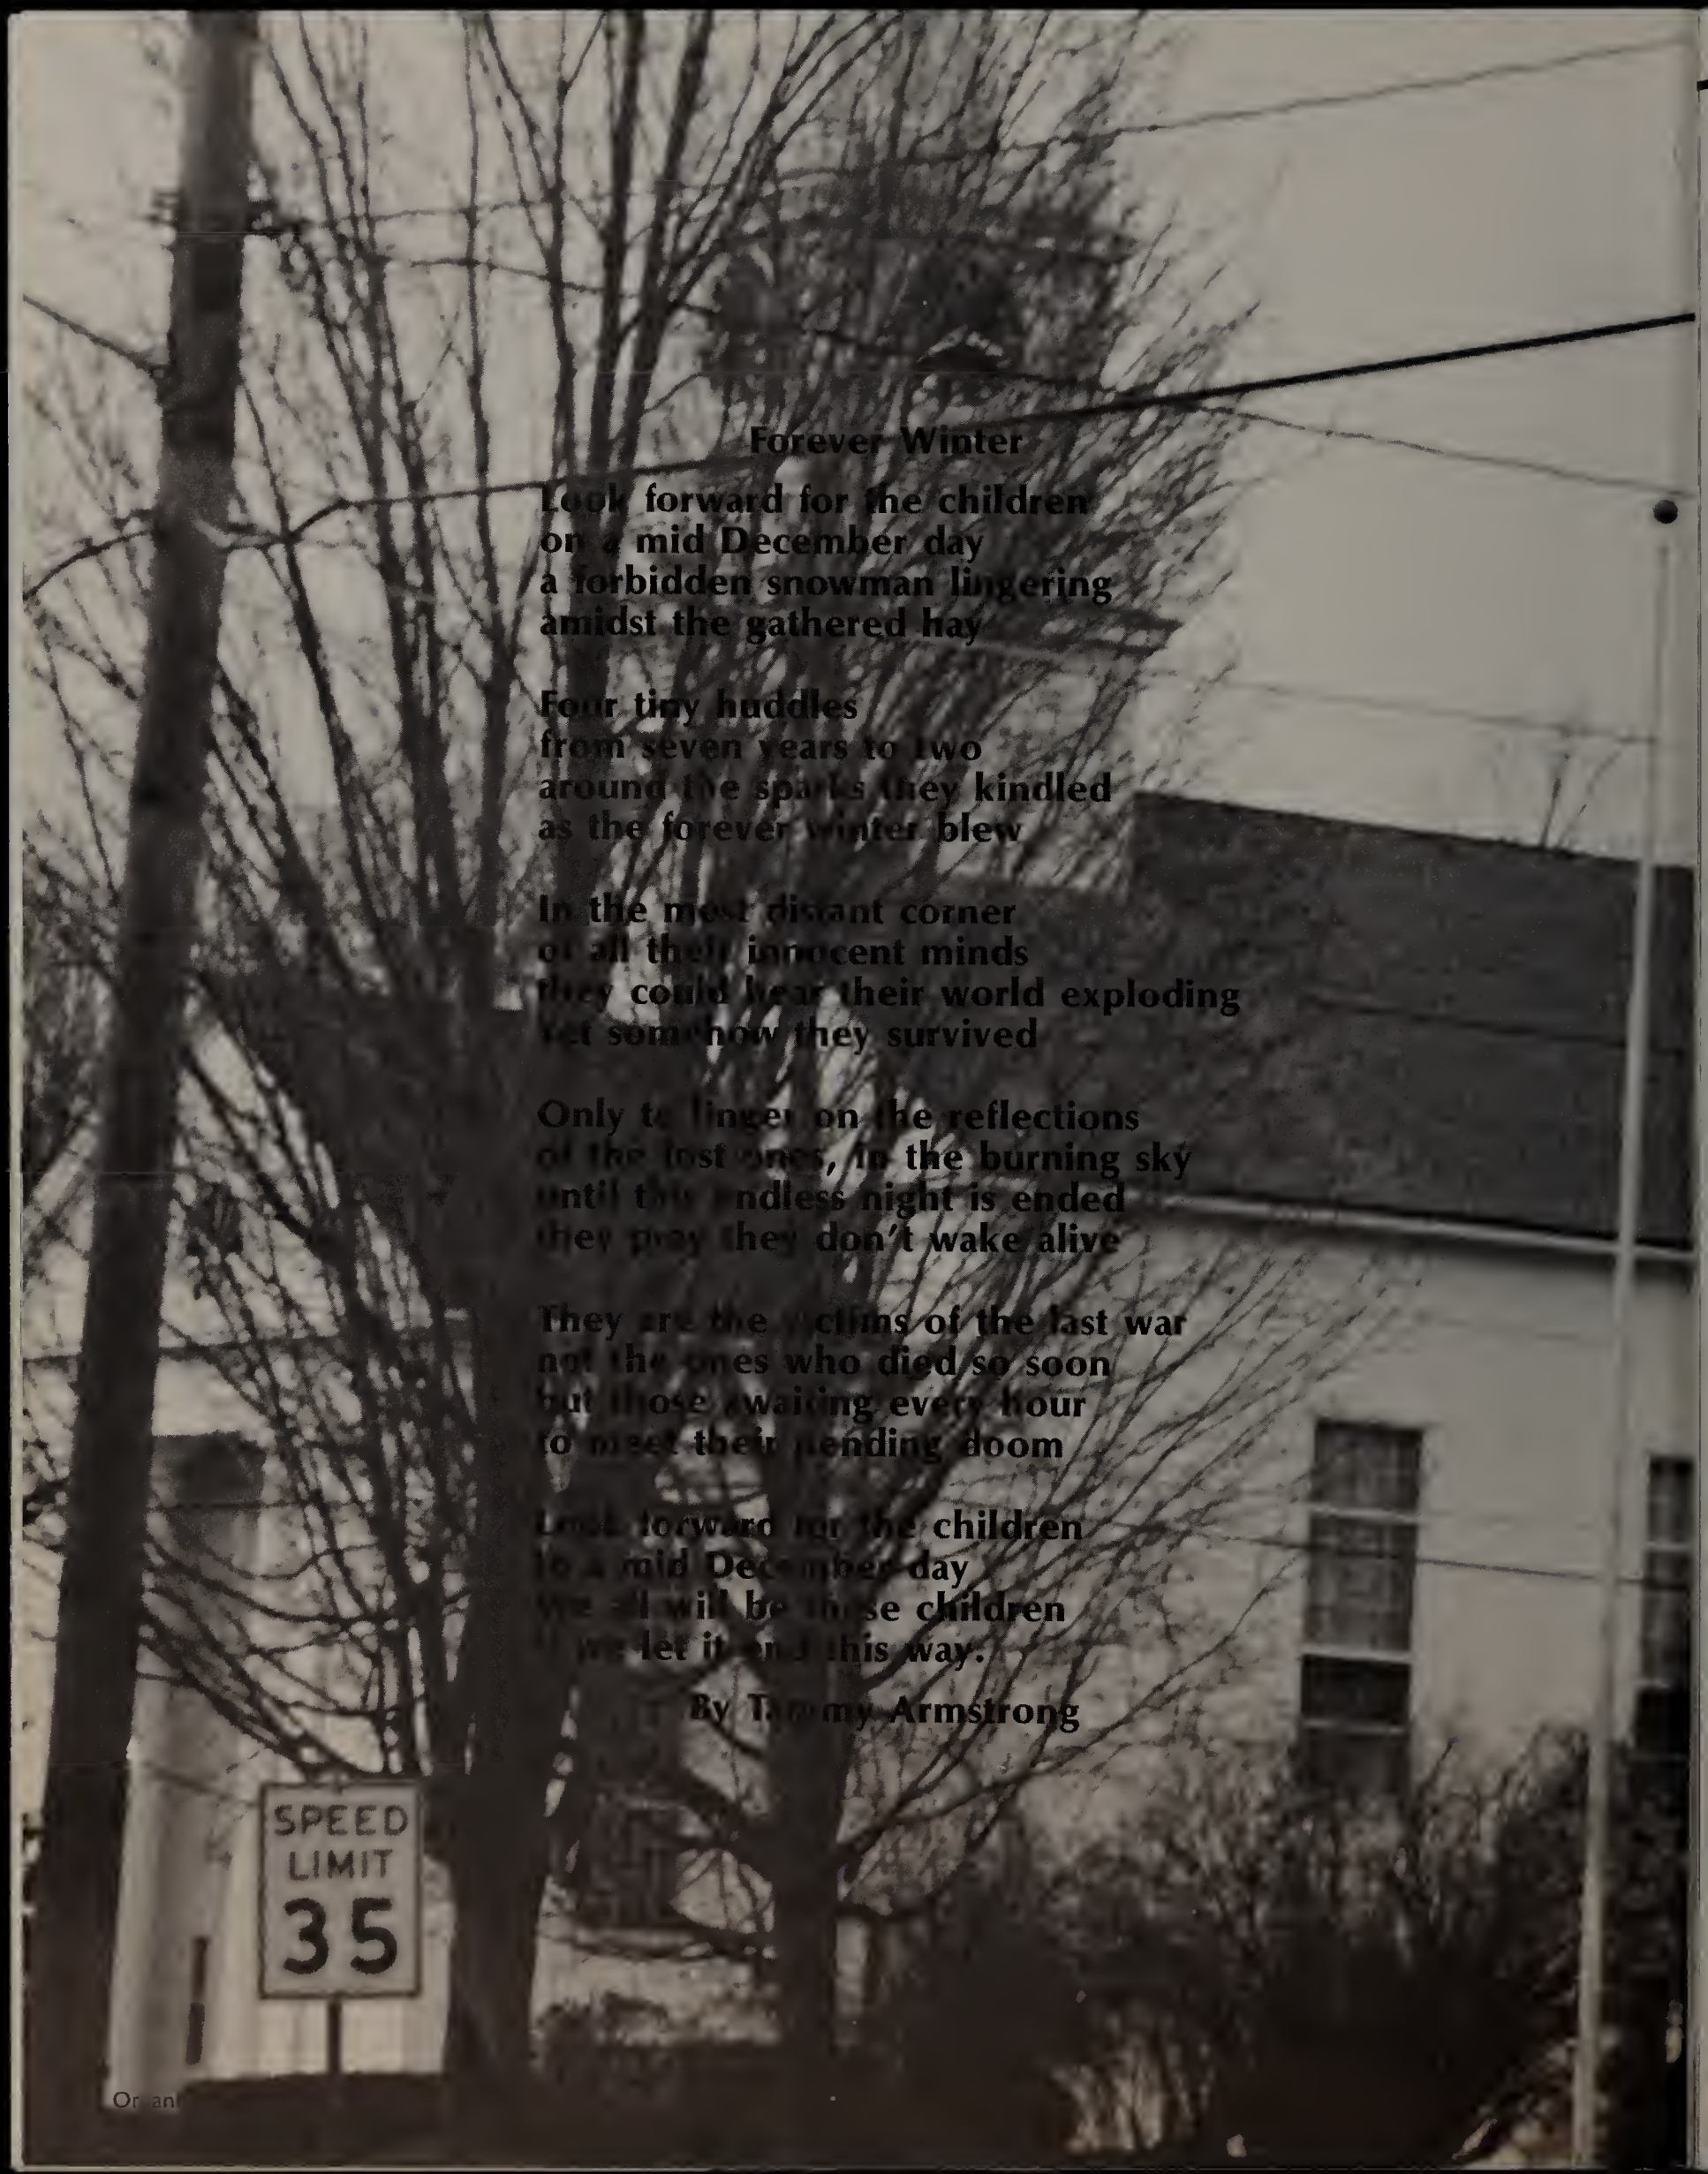

Memories are like the petals of a rose, taken with the blow of the wind.

Memories are like the footprints erased by the sands of time.

Memories dwell deep within our hearts, waiting for someday to be remembered.

Forever Winter

Look forward for the children
on a mid December day
a forbidden snowman lingering amidst the gathered hay

Four tiny huddles from seven years to two around the sparks they kindled as the forever winter blew

In the most distant corner of all their innocent minds they could hear their world exploding yet somehow they survived

Only to linger on the reflections of the lost ones, to the burning sky until this endless night is ended they pray they don't wake alive

They are the victims of the last war not the ones who died so soon but those awaiting every hour to meet their pending doom

Look forward for the children
on a mid December day
we all will be those children
if we let it end this way.

The Highway of Life

The red light has changed to green.
It's time to put our foot on the gas
And move onward,
However far that may be.
There will be another red light
Not too far down the long stretch
Of hot, black, lonley highway.
And when we get there,
We'll be met by thousands of others
Stopped at that same red light.
While we are stopped,
Life goes on and on,
Hopefully getting better and better.
After that light turns green,
We are free
And no longer do we all stop
At the same red light.

By Donna Cook

Moonlight sparkled in
The soft sweet dew
Resting upon
Each sharp blade of grass.
Silence slept within,
Hearing only the
Heartbeats it could feel.
It was then we were immune and
Out of darkness
Shone a light, gentle and warm.
Light shining into eyes
Turning the dark into new,
Fearing not to Blow away
The gray from above,
Sunlight cracked into dawn
Shining finally
Among the morning dew.

Soccer

The varsity soccer team ended its 1985 season with a 19-1-1 record. The Mountaineers captured their second consecutive CMC title, and extended their two-year unbeaten string to 42 games before losing to St. John's in the District E Final. A large part of the team's success was due to a veteran defense made up of seniors Jamie Ranicar (tri-captain), Rob Shack (tri-captain), David DiCesare, Matt Zola, and Joe Rock. A major contribution was also made by senior midfielders West Robbins, P.J. Ojerholm, John Roberts, and Chris Hynes. At the center forward position, senior tri-captain Steve Setturlund had an outstanding year. Steve scored 29 times in 1985, and concluded his high school career with a total of 68 goals. Both marks represent WRHS scoring records.

In recognition of their outstanding performances, several players were honored by being selected to all-star teams. Among the seniors, Setterlund was chosen for All- American status by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America. In addition, he was joined by Ranicar on the All- State and All-New England teams. Next year's team, led by tri-captains—elect Steve White (junior), Mark Zola (junior), and Peter Gardula (sophomore), has the potential for another great season. Also returning to the squad will be juniors Dean Leanna, Steve Rock, Kurt Ruchala, Matt Setturlund, Jamie Simpson, Jeff Landgren, Todd Masterman, and Mark Hehir, along with sophomore Bob Gramling.

The defense was lead by Jim Marshall, Mike Breed, Chris DeLaurie, and Peter Bobkowski. Our midfielders, Peter Sedgewick, Doug Kartono, and Joe Ryan controlled much of the play.

Leading the team in scoring were John Lufkin with 9 goals, Sal Paladino with 7, and Matt Chasse and Doug Kartono with 5. Our 3 games with St. John's, 2 wins and a tie, were our most exciting games, although our two 2 to 1 victories over Sutton were Sutton's only losses of the season.

In its premier year, this outstanding team shocked everyone. Expecting a tough year, this young team produced a 17-2 overall record and qualified for district play. Field hockey

The 1985 Varsity Field Hockey team captained by seniors Paige Erikson, Wendi Fair, Bettiann Luparelli, and Kim Plourde, had a most successful season. The winning trend continued as "the balls" went undefeated to capture the CMC Championship for the third straight year. Also for the third year in a row Wachusett played in the District finals, but were defeated by Westford in triple overtime, a very upsetting and controversial game. Leading scorers for this 18-1-2 team were Kari Bodnarchuk with 24 goals, a new school record. Paige Erikson had 11 goals while Michele LaChance and Kim Hagglund each scored 7 goals. Bettiann Luperalli and Nicole Parent shared goaltending duties, compiling 18 shutouts. MVP's for this outstanding team were Senior forward Kari Bodnarchuk and Junior halfback Joanne Murphy.

With the combined efforts of a skilled offense and a die-hard defense, team statistics show 64 goals scored by Wachusett and only 6 goals allowed; quite an accomplishment. Although seven talented seniors are graduating, 1986 looks to be a promising season, for there will be ten returning players.

They win again, and again . . .

They follow in the big sisters steps . . .

The Junior Varsity field hockey team compiled some impressive statistics this year. Their 13-0-1 record alone was sensational, but the fact that they scored 49 goals and had only 2 scored against them is unsurpassed at the Junior Varsity level. The closest game was a 1-0 game against Leominster with our goal in the last two minutes, and a late season tie with Notre Dame. These games were also the best-played games all season. This was a highly skilled, multi-talented group of girls who will be an asset to the Varsity program to continue Wachusett's winning tradition.

Boy's cross country

The 1986 Cross Country team surpasses last year's season with ease. Having no seniors, hopes of improving their 11-3 record next year is excellent. Led by co-captains Glen Cavanaugh and Robert Willey the team placed eighth of forty five in the Districts, and second in the CMC league meet.

Bob Parks, Wachusett's top runner won twelve of fourteen dual meets and placed tenth in the Wachusett Invitational, fourth in the CMC league meet, thirteenth in the District and one-hundred sixteenth in the State Meet. The same group returning promises an even better year for this young team.

Varsity Hockey

Wachusett Hockey had a successful year with a trip to the districts and an exciting season. The team had a great start winning its first six games and ended with a 12-6-2 record. The best game of the season was a well-played tie against Marlboro, who went on to win the districts.

Captains for this team were Steve Ordung, Randy Turner and Steve White. Leading scorers were Steve White with 21 points, Peter Gardula with 19, Steve Ordung with 17, and Craig Maddelena with 16 points. Along with being a captain and high scorer, senior Steve Ordung was chosen MVP. Wachusett lost a tough game to North Middlesex in double overtime 3-2 to lose their chance at a championship. The season ended in a disappointing loss, but was a better season than Wachusett Hockey's had in a few years.

Boys Winter Track

Wachusett winter track had a successful year having its strongest finish ever in the Districts, placing third in the tournament. The mountaineers won 3 of their 6 dual meets and set 3 school records. Mark Zola ran the 50 yard dash in 5.5, and Ted Hale ran the 300 yard run in 33.6. Ron Klaiber, Scott Peura, Jamie Simpson, and Kevin Olson broke the 4x400 relay record with a time of 3:36.

Co-captain Kevin Olson and Mark Zola were the teams MVP's. With Mark and many others returning, the team has potential for more improvement and record breaking next year.

And yet another winning team

Girls Winter Track continued Wachusett's winning style with a fantastic 8-1 dual meet record, losing to a tough Shrewsbury team. Besides gaining such an impressive record, the girls placed second in the district meet, the conference meet and the Martin Luther King relays. They also set seven school records.

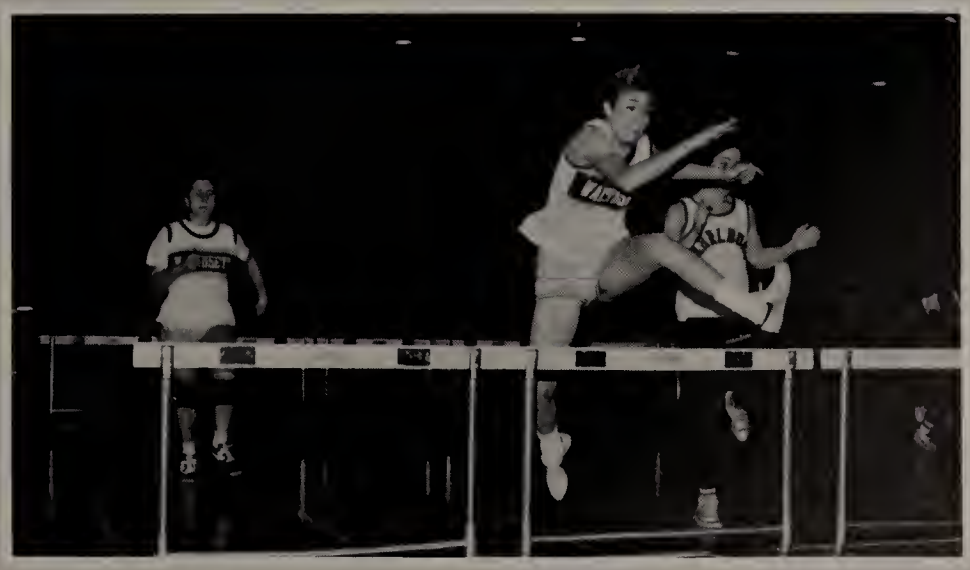

Tri-captains of this strong team were Kristy Maizer, Nicole Parent, and Suzanne Riedl. Suzanne also placed 5th in the Auerbach State meet and was chosen MVP. Joined by Ana Gregory, the two were Conference Champions. Also, Cheryl Odoardi was chosen as T & G player of the week.

After a great season like this and many returning players, next year should also continue the Mountaineer winning style.

Wachusett finished 9th at the North Sectional Meet with a score of 107.5. The future for Mountaineer Gymnastics looks bright after a season like the 1985-1986 season.

Varsity Basketball

Wachusett girls rank in basketball

After a slow start with some young players the Varsity Girls Basketball team put it all together. Coach Gately feels the hard work of the team helped them to beat the two teams they lost to early in the season. This second ranked team in Central Mass. was led by seniors, CMC all-stars, and top rebounders Tracy O'Malley and Robin Midgdelany. Tracy was also chosen for T&G all-stars and MVP, along with being top scorer. Outside shooting was excellent by Liane Bechant and Jen Lynch. Amy Bessette also contributed as fourth leading scorer.

Wachusett made it all the way to district semi-finals when they lost a tough game to Marlboro. The girls had an excellent game in quarter finals beating Westford Acedemy by three points. Coach Gately feels "we showed alot of progress from the beginning to the end. I'm more pleased with the overall play of this team though our record may not have been as good. This year was much more satisfying." The 1985-86 team put together a very respectible 15-5 record.

J.V.'s follow right behind

The J.V. girls had an excellent year posting 17 wins and only 3 losses. Led by high scorers Jen DeCelles and Bethe Mason they beat two of the three teams when they played again. Great rebounding by Patty Socash and Det Carraway along with game control by Deb Heidenfelter carried this strong team to 17 wins. Records and play like this promises comparible or better seasons for Wachusett girls basketball in years to come.

The freshman girls basketball team followed in the footsteps this year by gathering a 17-4 record. The highlighter of the season was beating a previously undefeated St. Bernard's team. The 1985-1986 squad was led by high scorer Tracy Shimkus and leading rebounder Stacy Lawson. Coach Matheson feels that these girls will help the program in the future and was "pleasantly suprised at how we did, a very good season."

Varsity basketball

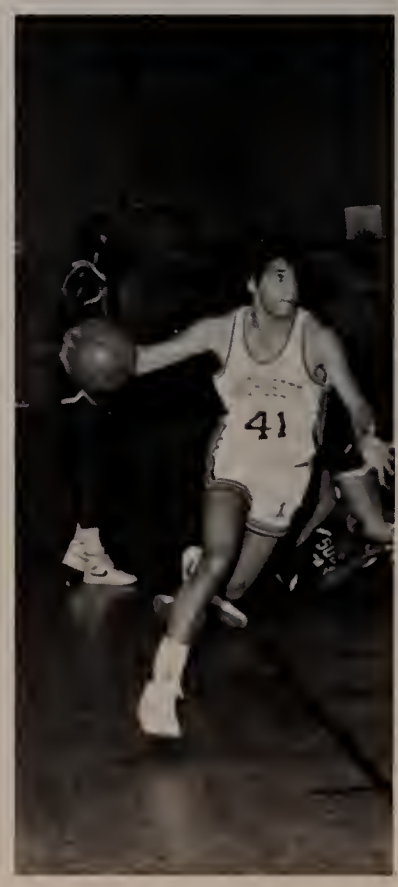

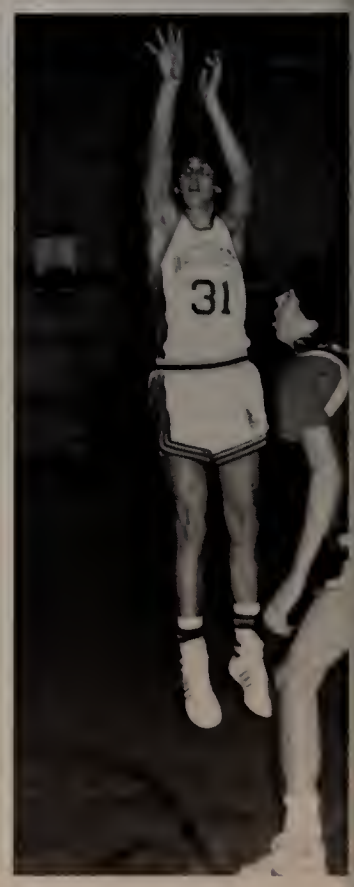

The 1985-1986 Varsity Basketball season was a very successful one. The team won the Central Mass. Conference Championship for the first time in the schools history. Also for the first time, the Mountaineers were declared the Class A Champions by the Worcester Telegram and Gazette. Co-captains Jeff Gull and P.J. Ojerholm led Wachusett to their impressive 18-4 season, the four losses totaling only 11 points.

Leading scorer and rebounder was Dave Bukley with 19.4 points per game and 16.1 rebounds per game. Leading in assists was Tom Lane with 5.3 per game. P.J. Ojerholm led in steals having 3 per game, and Paul Chang led on defense. Along with MVP, Dave Bulkley made the T & G super team and was joined by Tom Lane for the Central Mass. Conference all-stars. Having those two returning, along with Paul Chang and others, next year should be just as exciting as this year.

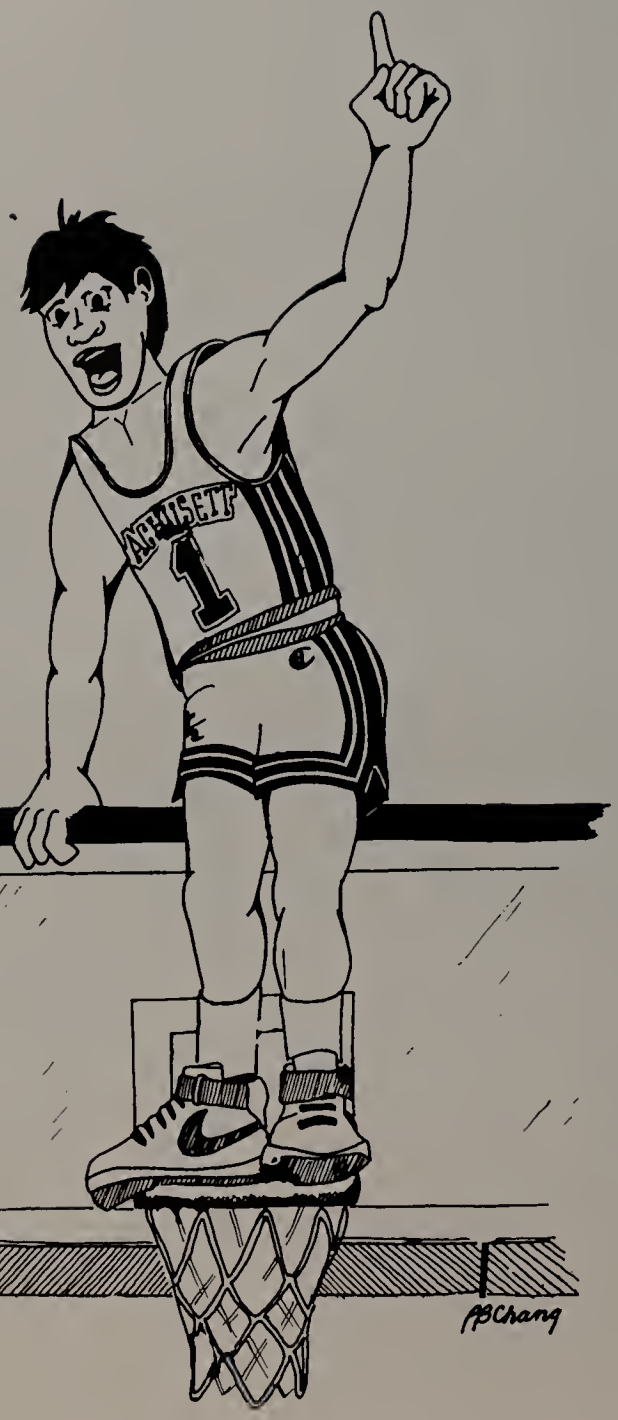

They put CMS's in the basket . . .

In past yearbooks, viewers have had the pleasure of looking at a full range of fall and winter sports, with plenty of pictures, scores, etc. With a later deadline this year for the first time in many years, we'd like to bring to you spring sports. With the ensuing task, there came difficulties also, such as time, and the photography, so if you do not find what you're looking for in the following pages, we extend an apology to you. Again, this is a first, and remember, it is only going to get better.

Girls have respectable year

The Wachusett varsity softball team closed the season with a 10-10 mark under the direction of coach Lou Cornachioli. With a double ended squad—both many seniors and a large number of young players, the girls have much to look at down the road, especially with L. Bachant on the mound, but never mind next year. Just ask any of the girls this year if they had a good year, and you know what the answer will be - - - YOU BET!!!

Golfers overcome St. Johns - 1st title in 11 years

There is an old adage that reads "If you don't suceed at first, then try and try again." Despite some good seasons in recent years, 1986 has proven to be a year to remember for the Country Club Strokers of Wachusett. Finishing with a 15-3-1 clip, it was good enough for a 2nd place in the CMC. The following members competed in the District E Individuals-Mark Weiss, Joel Spakauskas, Bob Blackmar, and Derek Orne. On June 5th, the team competed in the District E Championship winning the title from St. JOhns for the 1st time in 11 years. Competing in the District E team championship for Wachusett were Mark Weiss, Joel Spakauskas, Bob Blackmar, Derek Orne, Rob Skinner, and Pat Garabedian.

At Wachusett exist many different forms of activities. One of the most successful of which is theater at Wachusett. Each year three productions are put on. Wachusett also has a summer drama program in which 2-3 shows are produced. The plays consist of musicals, comedies and dramas.

Many would say that the same type of people participate in all of these shows. Not true . . . The productions involve people from music, art, shop, drama, as well as the rest of the school.

Spanning the globe

The International Club in association with the Foreign Language Department sponsored March 3-7 as International Week. As one of the advisors of the International Club, Mr. Brooks said the purpose of this was "to celebrate the various ethnic backgrounds from which we come and to point out the importance of international understanding in the world today."

Throughout the week, the cafeteria served special meals of Mexican and Italian origin. Artifacts of different cultures were arranged in display cases near the Guidance Office. Special announcements in foreign languages were broadcast each morning and the Wachusett Singers performed songs in the language of the day, at the end of the day.

Keeping up with Rhubarb Pie

Rhubarb Pie has been a tradition at Wachusett for at least the eleven years Miss Smith has taught in this school. The literary magazine thrived under the leadership of Mr. Moore, known for his prose, poetry, and photography in New England.

Miss Smith and Miss Rubenstein currently advise the annual editions although traditionally, all the submitted works have been judged by teachers and professors in the literary community outside of the Regional.

Because Rhubarb Pie is only an annual edition, the quality of the the composition is very high and the competition is very stiff.

Science seminar

Each Tuesday night for two hours, a group of students with particular interest in science gathers to form the Science Seminar. The first hour is devoted to a speaker, usually from an area college or company, who gives a talk on current research, ideas, and principles of many topics of science. The second hour is spent speaking individually with advisors, discussing the student's experimental science project. Members work towards the goal of the Wachusett Science Fair in March where their projects are displayed and judged. Prize winning students advance to the Regional Science Fair at WPI; from there students may advance to the State Science Fair at MIT. The Science Seminar members greatly appreciate the aid of faculty members Mr. Norman Mills and Mr. Ronald Spakauskas, and Seminar advisors Dr. Harry Strock, Dr. Neil Ault, and Dr. Lou Trostel of the Norton Company, and Dr. Henry Esber of EG&G Mason Research.

Model U.N.

Wachusett is very fortunate to have one of the strongest Model United Nations programs in Central Massachusetts if not all of Massachusetts; "Outstanding Delegation" and numerous individual awards at the Clark University and New York national conferences support this.

Members of the club gain experience in debate and in international relations both in activity period simulations of the General Assembly and in conferences with other schools. In this way, members meet other people and develop confidence in self-expression.

If any single reason could be given for the great success of this club it could have to be the devotion and enthusiasm of Mrs. Branche, the faculty advisor. As any member of the club can confirm, she is always present to assist in administration, fund raising, question answering, research guidance.

One of the most idealistic things said about teachers, is that when you're a teacher the students aren't here for you, you're here for them.
Then again it is just an ideal . .

Superintendent's Office

Message to the Class of 1986:

Over the last three or four years, graduates speaking at their graduations have more and more frequently included words of thanks to their teachers and especially to their parents for their assistance along the way. I, for one — tired of the ego-centered children of affluence, tired of the "I need", "I want", and "gimme" lyrics of most hit Music, and tired of the demands for instant solutions to the world's most perplexing problems — have found the acknowledgment of someone else's help, someone else's advice, someone else's talent and wisdom most refreshing. Really, we should all, in all of our relationships with people, family, elders and juniors, employers and employees, say "thank you" for the dozens of kindnesses that so many people, both living and dead, have shared with us. Not only are our thanks rightfully deserved, but they encourage the person to further kindness. The ripples travel outward, and the world becomes a little bit better place to be.

Let us all share thanks, as the Class of '86 graduates, with all those who have inspired us, students and teachers alike. Congratulations!

Coming from all over!

Every year at Wachusett, we are graced with the presence of a few students from abroad. In school year 1986, we saw seven individuals from a variety of locations, with two coming from neighboring Mexico, which isn't so close, Europe, and on the opposite side of the globe, the Phillippines. Although their stay just seems to fly by, every experience here turns into reward, and later a terrific memory. We cannot forget either how valuable and rewarding our times were that we had shared - - - how lucky we all were. We'll always remember the times together for they will always be a part of US.

I came across the roses
you know the ones I mean, the ones we locked away back then we wouldn't let them breathe;
crinkled, twisted, angry now trying to depress
we never let them see the light,
for this they don't forget.

Bring on the sunshine!!

6:30 A.M.: Just barely awake and at Wachusett leaving within a half hour.
8:15 A.M.: Bus breaks down, can't win them all
9:15 A.M.: With the miserable weather left behind, this heat and sun is great. Too much to do in too little time. Let's see, there is the pool, diving, lounging, softball volleyball, basketball, tennis, relay races dancing and movies in the afternoon, the boats, horses, miniature golf, I'm sure I've forgotten a few. I think I'll just sleep in the sun for awhile.
12 noon: Great food, beat's the school's anyways
7'00 P.M.: Time flew by, but I can't say I'm not tired-back in 2 hours.

Stepping out—prom time

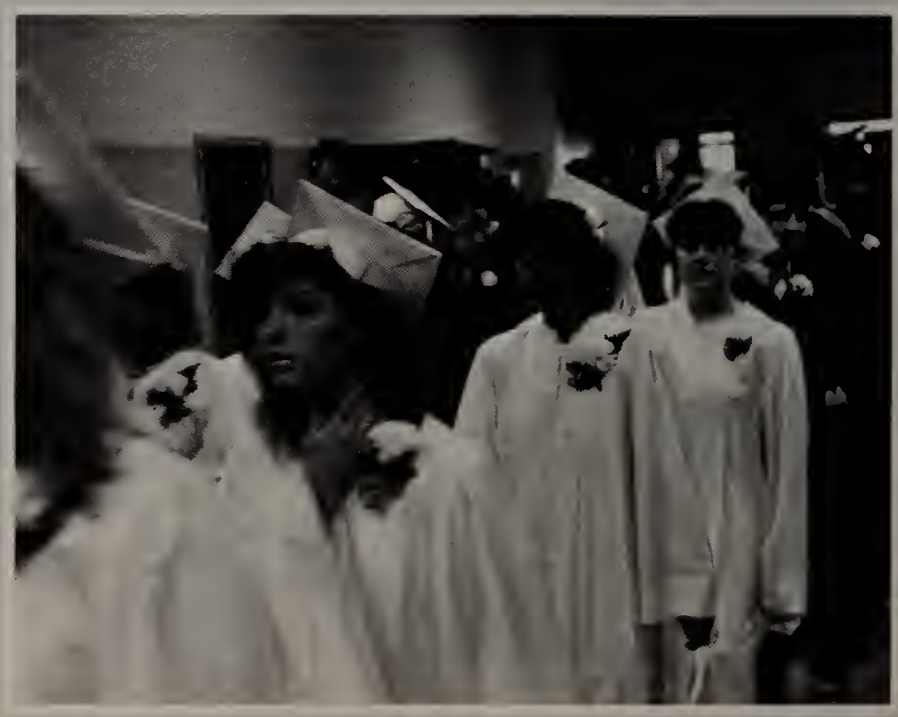

. . . Once upon a rainy day . . .

Here it is, a week before we graduate and it is still raining. We had just beaten the clouds when we all headed south to the Frank Davis Resort, but it is still wet here. 6 days later --- Well, monsoon season it is. We have just been dowsed with over 5 inches of rain the last two days and the reports say rain tomorrow. Oh well, it'll be a different graduation, the first indoors in a long time. There'll be thunderous applause, bright lights, video cameras, and a packed house to watch US finish our high school years. Ah, but only if we could receive the presence of the warm, bright sun, the smell of freshly cut grass, and an occasional refreshing breeze. Not this time, but keep your fingers crossed for our 5th.

I remember when rock was young
Me and Susie had so much fun
Holding hands and skimming stones
Had an old gold Chevy and
a place of my own
But the biggest kick I ever got
Was doing a thing called the Crocodile Rock
While the other kids were rocking around the clock
We were hoppin' and boppin' to the Crocodile Rock

Well, Crocodile Rocking, stomp and shout
And when your feet just can't keep still
I never knew me a better time and I guess I never will
On mama, those Friday nights
When Susie wore dresses tight
Crocodile Rocking was out of sight

But the years went by and Rock just died
Susie went and left us for some foreign guy
Long nights crying by the record machine
Dreaming of my Chevy and my old blue jeans
But that never killed the thrills we got
Burning up to the Crocodile Rock
Learning fast as the weeks went past
We really thought the Crocodile Rock would last

Well, Crocodile Rocking, stomp and shout
And when your feet just can't keep still
I never knew me a better time and I guess I never will
Oh mama, those Friday nights
When Susie wore dresses tight
Crocodile Rocking was out of sight

I remember when rock was young
Me and Susie had so much fun
Holding hands and skimming stones
Had an old gold Chevy and
A place of my own
But the biggest kick I ever got
Was doing a thing called the Crocodile Rock
While the other kids were rocking around the clock
We were hoppin' and boppin' to the Crocodile Rock

Well, Crocodile Rockin, stomp and shout
And when your feet just can't keep still
I never knew me a better time and I guess I never will
Oh mama, those Friday nights
When Susie wore dressed tight
Crocodile Rocking was out of sight

The 1986 Mountaineer Staff worked very hard this year to try to pull 1,700 students, especially those 400 or so in the senior class, together into one 288 page Yearbook. We tried to include a little of everything and of everyone. We all hope that the whole class of '86 finds a lot of memories in these pages.

Thank You to everyone who contributed writing, artwork or photography to the book, and to everyone who worked long nights trying to pull it together. You all did a super job- and wasn't it an experience? Thanks Mr. C - You have the patience of a Saint, thank God! We'll miss you.

"We, the class of 1986, would like to dedicate our yearbook to six unique and exceptional individuals who have guided us through our four years at Wachusett.

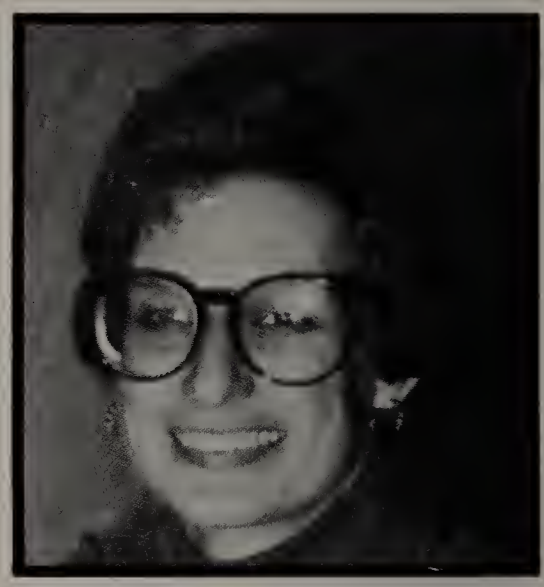

With your dedication and support you have helped us to grow as individuals and as a class. Your committment to all of US has directed us toward the accomplishment of all our goals and aspirations. We dedicate our yearbook to you . . . "

Coke is it!

One of the most formidable tasks one could possibly face is trying to describe over 1700 individuals who commonly share Wachusett. In closing, we hope you have enjoyed this collection of events and memories, and maybe now have a better idea of what we are all about.
